

Journal and Professional Publications

Pugh, H.K. & Heatwole Shank, K. (2024). Multi-species occupation involving equines: An action-oriented inquiry to inform occupational therapy practitioners. OTJR: Occupational Therapy Journal of Research, 44(2), 196-204.

<https://doi.org/10.1177/15394492231203724>

Pugh, H.K. & Heatwole Shank, K. (2023). Theoretical and methodological alignment through multi-modal research designs: Advancing the transactional perspective of occupation. Journal of Occupational Science, 31(2), 271-286.

<https://doi.org/1080/14427591.2023.2213697>

Pugh, H.K. (2022). Employing an action-orientation to expand our understanding of equine human occupations. Abstract available in: Inaugural World Occupational Science Conference. Occupation and Society: Global to Local Perspectives for the Future, Journal of Occupational Science, 29: sup1, S1S116.

<https://doi.org/10.1080/14427591.2022.2111001>

Pugh, H.K. (2016, October). Pairing strengths for success: Collaborating with external researchers. Professional Association for Therapeutic Horsemanship International (PATH Int'l) Strides.

Kennell, H. (2008, April). Warren County's Autism support team encourages others to 'catch the wave'. Virginia Department of Education Training and Technical Assistance Center Quarterly Newsletter.